

EL PASO TO GET $100,000 PLANT

El Paso is to have a new $100,000 soda manufacturing plant. The plant is to be established by S. D. Myers of Sweetwater, Texas, and is to be open and ready for work July 1. Present plans provide for the employment of 25 to 30 skilled workmen and mechanics.

Negotiations were carried on by Mr. Myers through the chamber of commerce. The plant is to be located at Overland and Campbell streets, where a two-story building is to be erected by Gus Mendenhall. The building will house a manufacturing department, a wholesale department and a retail department. There will be display and salesrooms.

Mr. Myers has achieved considerable success through his manufacturing of a $10,000 soda for J. C. Miller of the 1st ranch in Oklahoma. This soda was set with diamonds, rubies and other precious stones and had its pounds of gold and sterling silver in it. Mr. Myers made sodas for the government during the war and received a certificate of merit for his work from Maj. Gen. Joseph T. Dickman, commander of the southern department.

Pitched Battle Takes Place In Honduras House

Mexico City, Mex., March 8.—Members of the Honduran congress of deputies engaged in a pitched battle during the third week of February, there being 20 killed and wounded, according to private advices reaching this city from Tegucigalpa and published in El Universal today. Among those killed was Dr. Romulo E. Duron, president of the congress. It is stated the fight has resulted in a new revolution led by Gen. Tiburcio Garcia against the Gutierrez government.

Opposition to the government became so powerful that the Gutierrez government was threatened and during a session of the congress three weeks ago, Dr. Venancio Calles delivered a strong speech against Gutierrez. Garaged at this attack an adherent of Gutierrez shot and killed Dr. Calles.

Followed a battle in the chamber between members of the body and followers of the president, who, for the most part, were soldiers. In addition to president Duron, three leading members of the opposition party, who had not taken part in the fighting, were killed. It is stated the rebels have taken refuge near the Nicaraguan border.

EL PASO TRAFFIC HEADS FIGHT ANY RATE INCREASE

A special meeting of the traffic department of the chamber of commerce was held at 11 o'clock Monday morning for the purpose of instructing A. U. Tadlock, department manager, as to what he is to do before the interstate commerce commission in Washington on March 14, when he goes before that body to protest against any action which might result in higher rates for this city.

On motion of Julius Krakauer, Mr. Tadlock was instructed to fight to keep down the inbound rate, even if proved necessary to sacrifice some advantage on outbound rates. Mr. Tadlock is expected to leave at noon Tuesday for Washington. He will be accompanied by a Houston attorney who is a specialist in the matter of rates.

STATE REAFFIRMS OPINION OIL LEASES ARE TAXABLE

Austin, Texas, March 8.—The attorney general's department today reaffirmed its opinion that oil and gas leases are taxable and that the owner of the lease shall have such lease assessed and also pay the tax. This opinion was rendered several days ago, but held up until a hearing to ascertain lease holders be given. The hearing was held last Sunday and the department refused to change or modify its opinion.

Controller Waggoner accordingly today advised tax assessors throughout the state to see that such oil and gas leases are assessed.

EL PASO FLOUR HAS HIGH RANK

Flour made in El Paso ranks with the best made anywhere and sells for less than standard flour made elsewhere, according to Chas. Adams, secretary and manager of the El Paso Grain and Milling company.

Mr. Adams told the salesmanship club at its first weekly luncheon Monday noon at the chamber of commerce that his head miller had just returned from a trip into wheat growing centers of the north and had found that the best mill there were doing no better than his company's mills here. In fact it was found, Mr. Adams said, that there were advantages in favor of having a mill at the point of distribution rather than at the source of supply.

Julius Krakauer, of Krakauer, Zork and Myers was the principal speaker at the luncheon. He talked on the qualifications of a good salesman. Among the qualities a successful salesman must have, Mr. Krakauer said were these: personality, education, and knowledge, fidelity, and loyalty, truthfulness, honesty, and sincerity, confidence, industry, health, appearance, courtesy, persistence, tact and self control.

Mr. Krakauer said that selling was more than a matter of selling into every phase of existence and means the satisfaction of human wants everywhere. He said salesmanship was a fine art that someday would be recognized as course of study of a large degree by our colleges.

The wholesale hardware man's talk brought so much applause that he was invited back to continue his remarks along the same line. He said every hardware man should be a banker, a preacher and a lawyer to the next luncheon. Several promised to do so.

L. W. Bartholomew, assistant sales manager of Mr. Krakauer's firm was also a speaker.

The salesmanship club now has 122 paid up members. It will meet each Monday noon at the chamber of commerce.

JOHNSON AGAIN ASSAILS REPUBLICAN STATE PRIMARY

Minneapolis, Minn., March 8.—Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, again assailed the Republican state primary for presidential endorsement to take place March 15, in the opening address of his Minnesota campaign here today.

In a speech he reiterated declarations that the primary was a detriment to the interests of the state. The American expedition to Siberia, an instance of what would happen from participation in the league of nations, said senator Johnson, was a result of the primary. "We went there without a policy and we came out without a policy. We accomplished no results, except to arouse distrust against the United States all over the world."

Cold Damages Peach Crop In El Paso Valley

Many thousands of dollars' damage was done to the peach crop of the El Paso valley by the cold of Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights.

The recent unusually warm weather—spring like in its gentleness—had brought out all the early peaches, some in full bloom, many of them in stage of producing youthful branches of considerable size, and the cold spell ruined them all.

Some of the dwarf peaches had also blossomed and were killed, but the Bartlett peaches had not yet blossomed; neither had the apples nor the late peaches. Those early peaches, however, the growers here consider the cold spell fortunate, inasmuch as it will retard any budding tendencies they may have had. All the early peaches are killed, however.

Down about Yuleta, many of the peaches were killed as early as Friday night, although the cold in El Paso was not so severe. There was considerable ice in the night. Yuleta, even Friday night and ice everywhere throughout the valley Saturday and Sunday nights.

The lowest temperature recorded in the lower valley during the recent freeze was 24 degrees, according to information at the weather bureau. The lowest temperature was Saturday night. The full amount of the damage done is being estimated by M. M. Winslow, horticulturist for the farm bureau. All bud-burst fruit is said to have been destroyed in both the upper and lower valley. This mainly affects the peaches.

FALL COMMITTEE ENDS ITS HEARINGS IN TUCSON, ARIZ.

Tucson, Ariz., March 8.—The senate subcommittee, in investigating Mexican affairs, concluded its hearings in this city yesterday with the testimony of three witnesses. Senator A. B. Fall, chairman of the subcommittee, refused to make public any testimony offered at the hearings.

J. E. Anderson, of Tucson, was the first witness to give public testimony before the subcommittee. He testified Saturday night.

Anderson told of the killing of Stanley White and a man named Henderson, while driving trucks. He said no efforts were made to capture the assassins by the Mexican government and stated he saw the car which White was driving, in the house of a Mexican camp commander.

NOGALLES BUSINESS MEN CALLED BEFORE COMMITTEE

Nogales, Ariz., March 8.—Bradley Curtis, president of the Nogales chamber of commerce, and J. B. Barnes, president of the Nogales Young Men's Business Club received notice to appear before the senate subcommittee in Tucson.

The order followed the recent protest of Curtis and Barnes, in behalf of their respective organizations, against a statement attributed to senator Fall, in which Nogales business men were said to be afraid to jeopardize their business interests by appearing before the committee.

WASHINGTON GETS REPORT OF NEW KIDNAPING CASE

W. Black, an American salesman who was aboard the train, gave to James B. Stewart, the American consul at Chihuahua, the following account:—Two explosions derailed the engine March 4, 11 a. m. About half the guard of 100 were killed in the first explosion. A Syrian was hanged, and about five Mexican passengers who were attempting to escape were shot. Joseph Williams, an American, was carried off for ransom, while 11 and Robert J. Feltus, an American, and all other passengers were robbed and set free. The entire train was looted and then burned.

Bridges were burned along with the coaches of the train. Besides all passengers, a number were killed under personal supervision of Villa. It is said.

NEGRO ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

Tucson, Ariz., March 8.—James Ford, colored, has died in hospital here from a wound received in a shooting. The shooting occurred while he was standing in front of the Consolidated National bank on one of the busiest corners. Investigation by the coroner has shown that the fatal bullet came from a gunshot nearby, where an employee, George Hawkins, had been adjusting the sight of a rifle brought in by a customer. Hawkins, after thinking he had demonstrated there were no cartridges in the weapon, aimed toward the bank building and pulled the trigger. It happened a cartridge had been thrown into the number. The bullet glanced from the street surface through the negro's head, from jaw to eye.

TENSE PRESSURE ON HER HEAD

"My Sides, Back and Head Pained Me Just All the Time," Says Alabama Lady, Who Took Cardui and Got Well.

Unlontown, Ala.—"After the birth of my baby, I came near dying, writes Mrs. Maude Felix, of Unlontown. 'I was in an awful condition. . . . It just looked like I would die.' 'I couldn't bear anyone to even touch me. I was so sore, not even to turn me in bed. My sides, back and head all pained me, just all the time. 'We had the doctor every day and he did everything he knew how, it looked like. Yet I lay there suffering such intense pains as seems I can't describe.' 'Finally, I said to my husband, let me try Cardui. . . . He went for it at once, and before I had taken the first bottle the pain came back the soreness began to go away, and I began to mend. The intense pressure seemed all at once to leave my head, and before long I was up. 'I took three bottles and was well and strong and able to do my work. I believed Cardui saved my life. . . . I cannot praise it enough for what it did for me.' 'If you are a woman, and need a tonic—' Take Cardui, the Woman's Tonic. —Adv.

HOG CHOLERA BEING FOUGHT IN SECTIONS OF ARIZONA

Phoenix, Ariz., March 8.—Still fighting persistent outbreaks of hog cholera at various times and in various parts of Arizona, state veterinarian E. J. Light left for Casa Grande and Ansonia in answer to a summons which he believed would mean several days of hard work for him.

The epidemic at this time was reported particularly serious, he said, heavy losses being entailed by many of the ranchers.

The only remedy is by immunization, according to the veterinarian. Since the first outbreak in the state several weeks ago, it is estimated by Dr. Light that 240 hogs have died.

MEXICAN FIGHTS DEPUTY

Phoenix, Ariz., March 8.—In a telegram received by sheriff Montgomery from Prescott authorities, peace officers of Maricopa county were asked to watch for an unidentified Mexican reported to have engaged in a pistol duel with deputy sheriff Macleod, of Yavapai county, at the Starlight mine last Wednesday night. The deputy sheriff had been summoned to quell a disturbance, the advice said.
